2JCIE Series Environment Sensor - Change to Markings

Effective as of our production starting in May 2022, Omron will make changes to the product’s markings in order to align with global standards. This modification notice will explain the changes to the corresponding models. These changes will not alter the technical specifications or external dimensions of the components. Should you have any additional questions, however, please communicate with the Sensor Product Manager, Roland Hiso.

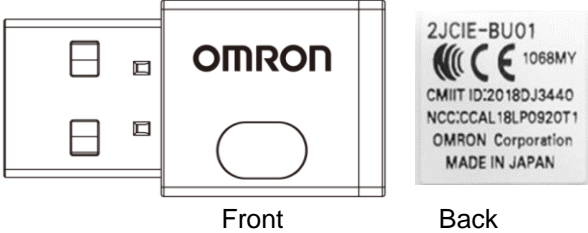

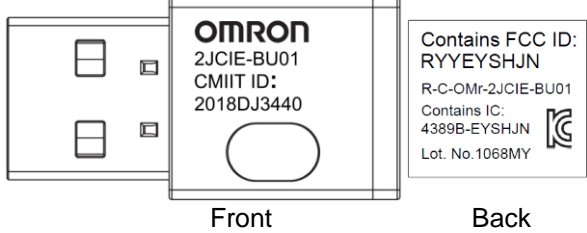

Effective Date:
May 2022
