2JCIE Environment Sensor – Discontinuation: Bag Type and PCB Type Only

In an effort to streamline our product offering, OMRON will discontinue the 2JCIE Bag and PCB Type models due to reduced global demand and the discontinuation of internal components. There is no suggested replacements for these models. Please note that the USB Type, Eval Boards, Harness and Filter Caps will remain in our product offering. The following notification will fully explain the discontinuation; should you have any additional questions, however, please communicate with the Sensor Product Manager, Roland Hiso.
