In order to improve process reliability and the reuse of the end product, the adhesive strip will be replaced by a rubber stopper in the future. These are inserted on both sides of the tube and serve as a stable end closure.
The change from adhesive strips to rubber stopper will result in a change to the packaging unit.
The change only affects products with THR capability (PCN PL2410XX 20250401 00 A) with a date (YYMMDD) on the packaging label from 260130 onwards (see illustration below). Earlier date markings are excluded from the change.
