General Description of Changes
Dear customer TE Connectivity has decided to cancel PCNs "PCN-25-244528 and PCN-25-250403", which were originally issued in May 2025 for a non-functional product feature change. The intent of this change was to implement a feature modification that does not affect product fit, form, function, performance. However, during the customer review process, additional validation activities and OEM approvals were requested prior to implementation. After careful evaluation, it has been decided not to proceed with this product change. Therefore, the previously communicated PCN is hereby withdrawn, and the listed part numbers will continue to be supplied in their current approved configuration. This cancellation does not impact product performance, quality, specifications, or supply continuity.

Reason for Cancellation:
The proposed change has been cancelled to maintain the current approved product configuration.
